VASTU AND OPTI-MYST

The use of fireplaces is becoming increasingly popular among homebuilders and decorators, and so are vastu-compliant home designs.

Vastu is an ancient vedic guideline for designing community spaces, temples and homes to ensure that the delicate balance between man, nature and the cosmos is maintained. A fireplace anywhere in your home has a positive effect on your home's vastu.

Dimplex's Opti-Myst with its water-based flame effect is a vastu positive fire. The twin Agni-Prajapati reside in, and rise from water. Twin Opti-Myst burner fireplace designs symbolise, represent and honour Agni-Prajapati arising out of the cosmic waters. Water represents Life and Agni-Prajapati represents the Presence of Divinity to facilitate the flow of blessings from the divine realms for mankind's wellbeing.

An Opti-Myst fireplace placed in any quarter of your home brings about harmonising and balancing effects to the home and family to expand the beneficial aspects and eliminate the negative impacts of vastu directional energies.

NOT ALL ELECTRIC FIRES ARE THE SAME

An electric fire offers us the promise of a real wood or gas fire in our home when venting or flueing is impossible or very difficult to achieve. Simple electric fan heaters or reverse cycle air conditioner should be able to create heat in these situations. But you don't need to deny yourself the ambience of a fireplace! You would naturally want the most realistic-looking electric fire, not some cheap imitation with no warranties or guarantees, or anyone to even service the darn thing.

Dimplex is UK's No.1 electric fireplace company and Dimplex's award-winning creation, the Opti-Myst, stands apart from the crowd with its patented 3D electric fire technology. The logs look like real, smouldering logs, not a plastic toy. The 3D flames look like real flames, not some imitation lighting behind a glass door. The Opti-Myst produces a mist that looks exactly like real, lazily drifting smoke. All this costing less than 3-4 rupees an hour to run! Don't take our word for it. Scan this code to see for yourself.

Fireplaces are magical! It's so relaxing to watch dancing flames that the day's stress simply melts away.

Scientific studies conclude that watching a crackling fire before bed reduces high blood pressure and ensures sound sleep! It seems our instincts were right! Time spent in front of a fire is a scientific, drug-free prescription to relax, wind down and connect with your family and friends. During this winding down time, the pineal gland in the brain starts secreting melatonin, ensuring we have a good night's sleep.

Watching a live or life-like, crackling fire reduces anxiety and blood pressure.

1. An optimum level of melatonin secretion by the brain is essential for a restful, full night's sleep.
2. Exposure to ambient amber lighting in the evening before bedtime increases production of the hormone melatonin.
3. Melatonin improves not only the quality of sleep but also increases daytime alertness level.
4. Melatonin production strengthens the immune system and helps prevent cancer.

So, well before you go to bed, switch off that television, dim your lights and switch on your Opti-Myst. Watching the dancing, swirling golden flames of your fireplace, let your mind calm down. Let your body relax and your face light up with a smile – you know you will sleep well tonight.
